Am shape with box 4

Now for the Am shape CAGED chord. This chord can be found on the A string root note, and whenever you play this shape, you can play the pentatonic box 4 underneath it. Let's have a look at those shapes in the fretboard diagrams. In this example we're using the chord of D minor:

Lick 4

We are now ready to add the minor chord to our rhythm and lead playing. We're specifically working with Hendrix's favourite shapes, and he very much roots in two chords, the E and A shape minor CAGED chords.

Channelling Hendrix!

This lick gets repeated over and over again!

In this lick, we are using the E minor chord and E minor pentatonic box 4. This neatly demonstrates how you easily move the two things up and down the fretboard. As always, the most important thing to take from the lesson is the rhythm of the lick, so take your time!
