Putting It Together

With all the individual elements learnt, we will now put the whole thing together. It's all written out in this chord chart below. Remember to play the lead guitar part when the chord chart says "riff". This is an important thing to realise with any chord chart, it delivers you the outline of the track, and all the chords, but nothing else!

Practice routine update...

Now, before we end this unit, let's just check out our practice routine. It stays very much the same in the Guitar Gym section, but now our musical section is very different! Here we have it.

“ And there you have it! An entire song to learn and play along to. We would highly recommend learning the song up to the point where you can play along before you move onto the next unit. It doesn't have to be perfect, just in time and roughly correct!
