Csus & Gsus chords

Let's learn 4 more chord shapes for the suspended chords relating to G and C major. The shapes can be found below, and once again the numbers in the dots refer to the fingers you are using to fret the chords.

Moving the chords...

We will practise these shapes in the same way we practised the last shape, by using the natural major chord between them. The chord chart and rhythm pattern are as shown below.

“

Just as in lesson 2, your task before the next lesson is to get this mini chord chart together, with the chords changing comfortably. It also helps to call out loud the chord name, to help you label the shape you are playing!
