Can you hear the changes?

As you listen to the song, can you hear where the chord changes? We're not expecting you to identify what chord it is at this point, just notice that there is a change. We're looking to be able to notice when the chord moves, as depending on the part of the song this can sound different.

I would recommend playing the audio track once you've watched the video once, so that you're not just watching the chord change, but in fact, using your ears to hear the chord

change!
